Guy-Uriel Charles

Dora Dome

Lindsay Wiley

Palma Strand

Micky Minhas
Guy-Uriel E. Charles is the Charles J. Ogletree Jr. Professor of Law at Harvard Law School where he also directs the Charles Hamilton Institute for Race and Justice. He writes about how law mediates political power and how law addresses racial subordination. He teaches courses on civil procedure; election law; constitutional law; race and law; critical race theory; legislation and statutory interpretation; law, economics, and politics; and law, identity, and politics. He is a member of the American Academy of Arts & Sciences and the American Law Institute. He was appointed by President Joseph Biden to the Presidential Commission on the Supreme Court of the United States. He is currently working on a book, with Luis Fuentes-Rohwer, on the past and future of voting rights, under contract with Cambridge University Press, which argues that the race-based model that underlies the Voting Rights Act has run its course and that the best way to protect against racial discrimination in voting is through a universal, positive rights model of political participation. He is also co-editing, with Aziza Ahmed, a handbook entitled Race, Racism, and the Law, under contract with Edward Elgar Publishing. This book will survey the current state of research on race and the law in the United States and aims to influence the intellectual agenda of the field. Before teaching at Harvard, he taught at Duke Law School and at the University of Minnesota Law School. He also served as interim co-dean at the University of Minnesota from 2006-2008. He has been a visiting professor at Georgetown, Virginia, and Columbia law schools. He was a past member of the National Research Commission on Elections and Voting and the Century Foundation Working Group on Election Reform. In 2006, he was awarded the distinguished teaching award at the University of Minnesota Law School. In 2016, he was awarded the distinguished teaching award at Duke Law School. He has delivered distinguished lectures at various universities including University of California, Davis Law School, University of Richmond Law School, University of Oregon Law School, William and Mary Law School.
Dora Dome

Dora J. Dome has practiced Education Law for over 27 years, primarily in the areas of student issues and special education. She currently provides legal representation to school districts on student issues and develops and conducts professional development trainings for district staff that focus on Bullying and Legal Compliance, viewed through an Equity Lens, in a proactive effort to build staff capacity to address the changing needs of their students. Ms. Dome has also been a Lecturer at the University of California at Berkeley, teaching Education Law and Policy in Principal Leadership Institute (PLI) Program. In 2016, she published her first book, Student Discipline, Special Education Discipline, Anti-Bullying and Other Relevant Student Issues: A Guide For Practitioners, which has been described as a “must-have” for anyone seeking to understand student discipline and bullying. In 2017, Ms. Dome published her second book, Understanding Student Discipline in California Schools: A Parent’s Guide to General and Special Education Discipline, to assist parents in navigating the school discipline process. This book has also been translated into Spanish! In 2020, Ms. Dome published three new books, Student Discipline Resource Binder: A Comprehensive Guide for K-12 Schools, Improving Student Achievement Through The Creation of Relationships: A Critical Race Theory Counter-Story, and her latest book, Student Speech And Expression In Public Schools: A Resource Guide For K-12 schools. All three books are part of her new series called Tools For The Trade.

Lindsay Wiley

Lindsay F. Wiley is a professor of law and Faculty Director of the Health Law and Policy Program at UCLA Law where she teaches torts and various health law courses. Her research focuses on access to health care and healthy living conditions in the United States and globally. She is the author of Public Health Law: Power, Duty, Restraint and Public Health Law and Ethics: A Reader (with Lawrence O. Gostin) and Feminist Judgments: Health Law Rewritten (with Seema Mohapatra). Professor Wiley is the U.S. Rapporteur for the Lex-Atlas Covid-19 Project, a global project comparing responses to Covid-19, sponsored by the University College London, King’s College London, and the Max Planck Institute of Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg, Germany. She is the Founder and Co-Chair of the Health Justice: Engaging Critical Perspectives in Health Initiative. She has served as a member of and consultant to committees convened by the National Academies of Science, Engineering, and Medicine related to public health emergency response and federal communicable disease control powers. She is a current member of the Board of Directors of ChangeLab Solutions, LLC, a former president and member of the Board of Directors of the American Society of Law, Medicine, and Ethics, and a former member of the National Conference of Lawyers and Scientists, a joint standing committee of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Bar Association’s Section of Science and Technology Law. Professor Wiley has held positions at American University Washington College of Law, the O’Neill Institute for National and Global Health Law at Georgetown University, the Center for Law and the Public’s Health at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, and Gordon, Feinblatt, Rothman LLC in Baltimore, MD.
Palma Strand

Palma Joy Strand is Visiting Professor of Law at Marquette University Law School in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Prior to this year, in Fall of 2022, she was the Boden Visiting Professor there. Strand came to Marquette from Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, where she was Professor of Law in the Negotiation and Conflict Resolution (NCR) Program. Before joining the NCR Program, before joining the NCR Program in 2017, she was a member of the faculty of the Creighton University School of Law from 2007-2017. Strand has a B.S. in Civil Engineering from Stanford University and a J.D. from Stanford Law School. She clerked for Judge J. Skelly Wright on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit and for Justice Byron R. White on the United States Supreme Court. She received an LL.M. from the Georgetown University Law Center, where she was a Hewlett Fellow in Alternative Dispute Resolution and Legal Problem-Solving. Prior to joining the Creighton faculty, she also taught at the Georgetown University Law Center and the University of Maryland School of Law. Strand is Co-Founder and Research Director of the national non-profit Civity, which supports local communities in creating the relational infrastructure that is foundational to addressing complex public problems and to democratic governance. She also designs and facilitates Conversations About Race & Belonging for public school educators and parents, and she served as a member of the Steering Committee of the Omaha Community Council for Racial Justice and Reconciliation, which coordinated with the Equal Justice Initiative to commemorate two historical lynchings that occurred in Omaha. Her research and writing center on the civic foundation for governance and law and on how law creates and perpetuates systemic injustices such as racism, misogyny, and economic inequality.

Micky Minhas

Micky Minhas is the Director of the Intellectual Property Center of the University of New Hampshire Franklin Pierce School of Law. In addition, Mr Minhas serves as the Senior Vice President for Marconi. As part of the Marconi management team, he plays a vital role supporting Marconi’s vision of transforming the fundamentals of patent licensing through providing better ways to share patented technology. Before joining Marconi in March 2020, Micky was Chief Patent Counsel for Microsoft, managing the Microsoft patent group since 2012. Primarily responsible for outbound and inbound intellectual property licensing, patent strategy, patent acquisitions and divestitures, he also managed patent preparation and prosecution of patents and was responsible for Microsoft’s conflicts, indemnification and prelitigation practice. Prior to Microsoft, Micky served as Vice President of Patent Strategy at Qualcomm in San Diego, California. Micky holds a BS in Electrical Engineering from Marquette University, an MS in Electrical Engineering from George Washington University and a JD and LLM from the University of New Hampshire.
J-Term Schedule

LAW546G: Heath Care Access
Wiley, Lindsay, UCLA School of Law
Monday - Friday (January 8 - 12, 2024)
9:00am - 11:20am
Location: CR 1

LAW546I: Intellectual property, Entrepreneurship, & Indigenous Community Development
Minhas, Micky, Franklin Pierce School of Law
Monday - Friday (January 8 - 12, 2024)
9:00am - 11:20am (11:30am - 12:30pm for 2 credit students)
Location: CR 3

LAW 546C: The Legal Building Blocks of Current Wealth Inequality
Strand, Palma, Marquette University Law School
Monday - Friday (January 8 - 12, 2024)
1:00pm - 3:20pm
Location: CR 1

LAW546E: Critical Race Theory
Charles, Guy-Uriel, Charles Ogletree, Jr. Professor of Law, Faculty Director, Charles Hamilton Houston Institute for Race & Justice
Monday - Friday (January 8 - 12, 2024)
2:00pm - 4:20pm
Location: CR 3

LAW 546F: Legal & Policy Issues in Urban Education (HYBRID)
Dome, Dora, Dora Dome Law
Monday - Friday (January 8 - 12, 2024)
5:30pm - 7:25pm
Location: CR 3
Our Mission

The William S. Richardson School of Law is a collaborative, multicultural community preparing students for excellence in the practice of law and related careers that advance justice and the rule of law.

We develop highly qualified, ethical professionals through excellence in teaching, scholarship, and public service.

We embrace Hawaii’s diversity and values and recognize a special responsibility to our state and the Pacific region.

We lead in Environmental law, Native Hawaiian law, and Pacific-Asian legal studies.
About January Term

Frank Boas

Our January Term (J-Term) Program, established in 2005, gives Richardson law students a cost-free bonus of specialized mini-courses taught by some of the world’s leading scholars, professors, judges, and attorneys.

Mr. Frank Boas, a generous supporter of the Law School, helped start the program and annually sponsored a visiting Harvard Law School professor for each J-Term.

The Law School continues Frank’s inspired ideas in his memory.

The Wallace S. Fujiyama Distinguished Professor Fund supports many of our other J-Term professors.

www.law.hawaii.edu
UNIVERSITY of HAWAI'I at MĀNOA
WILLIAM S. RICHARDSON
SCHOOL OF LAW

www.law.hawaii.edu